B. FIELD SUMMARY (Ranks 5+)

- #5 Nerazurri (ML 5/1): TPN 79 (Non-Contender). Capable of running a mid-90s number but runs into an absolute buzzsaw of pace and class here.
- #1 Scalable (ML 9/2): TPN 79 (Non-Contender). Lacking TS Speed to contend for the win against Baffert's heavy hitter.
- #4 Lika Rolling Stone (ML 30/1): TPN 65 (Non-Contender). Completely outclassed on raw power and figures.

Section 5: Automated Deep Dive & Re-Rank

- The Pace Monopoly: On a track with a 93% speed bias and a 2.08 impact value for E/P runners, #3 Dry Powder holds a massive 8-point gap in TSE2 cruising speed. She MUST be respected as a wire-to-wire threat if the favorite gets boxed in.
- The Class Edge: #7 Splendor is simply a better class of animal, dropping in from a G1 where she ran a 102 TS Speed.

Section 6: Final Rankings & Value Board

Rank	#	Horse	Raw TPN	Norm TPN	ML	Tier	Alert	Rationale
1	7	Splendor	104	100	3/2	Top Pick		Dropping from G1; Baffert shipper towers on class
2	6	Alpine Princess	93	89	7/2	Contender		Elite TS Speed; will track in 3rd for Cox/Irad
3	3	Dry Powder	88	85	6/1	Contender		Massive TSE2 pace edge; dangerous lone speed
4	2	Lost Horizon	84	81	4/1	Fringe		Lightly raced Chad Brown with Blue Sky potential
5	5	Nerazurri	79	76	5/1	Fringe		Tough spot against absolute division leaders

Contender Rundown

-  The Power Play: #7 Splendor — Bob Baffert ships in a monster who drops out of G1 company with TS Speed numbers that this field simply cannot touch.
-  The Speed Angle: #3 Dry Powder — Will aggressively seek the lead and possesses an outrageous 114 TSE2 rating to potentially steal it on a heavily speed-biased track.
-  The Value Play: #3 Dry Powder — At 6/1, the lone speed angle is heavily insulated by the track profile.
-  The Fade: #1 Scalable — Takes money on the Repole/Pletcher names but hasn't run a competitive number to threaten the top 2 in over a year.

AI Call: Expect #7 Splendor to assert her absolute class advantage, running down the very dangerous lone speed of #3 Dry Powder late in the stretch.

5	9	Fierce and Strong	85	76	5/1	Fringe		Underlay strictly reliant on total collapse

Contender Rundown

-  The Power Play: #5 Alogon — Sits #1 in TPN Prime, owns elite TS Speed, and draws into the perfect stalking trip behind a destructive pace.
-  The Speed Angle: #6 Nothing Better — A 9-year-old warhorse who possesses enough raw class to clear the field and survive the early fractions.
-  The Value Play: #2 Alder — A massive 30/1 overlay who is dropping heavily in class and is perfectly positioned to pick up the pieces if the leaders cook each other.
-  The Fade: #4 Kalahari Not Sorry — A 30/1 longshot who must have the lead to win but simply lacks the elite velocity to cross over against graded-stakes caliber sprinters.

Section 3: Race Flow & Trip Shape

Track bias data highlights a strong advantage for "E/P" types (48% win rate), but today's pace projects as highly contested. The field is loaded with early speed, notably Ms. Buccheri, Unsolved Mystery, and Echo Sound, all flashing massive TSE1 figures. Because multiple horses possess similar early acceleration profiles with no singular "Alpha" clearing the field, this projects as a suicidal front-end duel. In "High Chaos Mode," a pace meltdown heavily favors the closer with the most potent late kick. The race sets up perfectly for a deep closer or tactical stalker to pick up the pieces in the lane.

This is a classic Grade II 11-furlong turf marathon where early speed track biases (1.54 IV for E/P types) must be balanced against the grueling distance. TrackSmart strictly suspends early meltdown logic in high-level turf routes, prioritizing late turn-of-foot (TSLP). Program Trading and Echo Lane possess the highest TSLP ratings in the field and will sit mid-pack. Expect Uncle's Gold and Telescopic to carve out the early fractions from the inside. With the tactical advantage heavily favoring ground-saving trips and explosive late kicks, outside closers with the class to sustain a prolonged 3-furlong drive hold the mathematical edge here.

- #1 Eldest Son (ML 30/1): TPN 78 (Fringe). Upgraded for ground-saving rail trip, but raw speed ceiling looks slightly outclassed.

- #2 Telescopic (ML 20/1): TPN 70 (Non-Contender). [🏇 JILTED: Gaffalione jumped ship to ride #5.]
- #8 Post Command (ML 30/1): TPN 65 (Non-Contender). Negative TS Speed gap limits potential in graded company.

📊 Contender Rundown

- 📌 The Power Play: Program Trading — Absolute monster class capacity and the highest TSLP rating in a race that demands a finishing kick.
- 🏇 The Speed Angle: Echo Lane — If his regressed 109 back-figure translates smoothly here, his closing kick is dangerous.
- 💰 The Value Play: Thundering — Elite jockey Tyler Gaffalione actively jumping off a rival mount to ride this 15/1 shot is the ultimate insider green light.
- 🚫 The Fade: Just a Touch — Takes the bulk of the public money, but his raw numbers trail the top pick and he projects a tougher trip.

AI Call: Expect Program Trading to prove best, with Echo Lane the danger. Watch out for Thundering as a massive value threat who could juice exotics.

- #8 Orator (ML 6/1): TPN 76 (Non-Contender). Dropping in TS Speed steadily and faces a tough outside post draw.
